

SL1100 Training Videos

A valuable technician tool for new SL1100 Resellers

NEC Corporation of America (NEC) is pleased to announce the introduction of a series of short technical training videos that address the basic programming requirements of the SL1100 system.

The SL1100 training videos are available through the NEC National Technical Assistance Center (NTAC) Website: www.necntac.com. This is a password-protected Website that requires online self-registration. Registrants will be issued a Tech ID. In addition to the SL1100 training videos, the NTAC Website provides a wide range of additional technical documentation, as well as access to incident reports that may help you with a specific application or technical issue.

What are the recommended foundation training videos for SL1100?

Each video listed below may be watched in any order that you choose but it is recommended that you watch them in the following order if you are new to NEC SL1100:

- 01) Installing Common Cards & Performing a Cold Start" (Setting system to factory default)
- 02) Finding SL1100's Current Software Version & IP Address
- 03) Modifying SL1100's IP Address
- 04) Using PCPro
- 05) Incoming Calls Part 1
- 06) Incoming Calls Part 2
- 07) Incoming Calls Part 3
- 08) Manual Night Mode Switching
- 09) Automatic Night Mode
- 10) InMail Basic Auto Attendant Programming
- 11) Analog Line Auto Side Tone Adjustment

Videos will be created for additional topics, as needed.

Please click the link below to review detailed explanations of the SL1100 training videos. If you have not yet registered on the NTAC Website, please take the time to register right now, as we are sure you will find it very helpful.
